About us

Children in Northern Ireland (CiNI) is the regional umbrella organisation for the children and young people's sector in Northern Ireland.

We bring organisations together to share knowledge, build sectoral capacity, champion the voices of children, young people and families, and bring about meaningful change through influencing the decisions, policies and systems that shape their lives.

Our membership includes organisations from across the voluntary, community, statutory, public and independent sectors, working in communities across Northern Ireland.

Together, our members help create a stronger, more connected and more influential children and young people's sector.

Membership that works for your organisation

Membership fees are tiered based on your organisation's income. There is no cost to become a CiNI member for organisations with an annual income of under £50,000.
